

TAFT IS URGED TO GET INTO BATTLE

His Friends Beseech Him to Fight Doctrines of Roosevelt.

HIS FUTURE IS AT STAKE

Crisis Will Come in Committee on Resolutions at Chicago Convention.

Washington, February 23.—"Go to it, Mr. President! Accept the challenge; meet Roosevelt's declaration of his policies with a reiteration of Republican doctrine."

"Get your coat off and fight. Don't let him set up Populism as the standard of Republicanism."

It is no exaggeration to say that the foregoing voices the heartfelt adjuration of the Republicans of the House and Senate who have not gone over absolutely to the extreme radical faction.

Heartfelt, because they realize, they say, the necessity of prompt and sturdy action by the titular head of the Republican party in a great party crisis.

The President's recent speech in New York put more ginger into the Republican campaign, more hope into their hearts, more confidence into their course than anything which has happened during Mr. Taft's administration. They want him to keep it up along the same line and go farther.

It is with a sigh almost of weariness that the old line Republicans ask each other if they must again take up the burden of factional contest for the supremacy of the established tenets of the party.

Recalling the exhausting struggles of the past—the fight against Populism, against free silver and back of those the other contests with James small and great, out of all of which the party came victorious—the old line men are ready to buckle on the armor again if necessary, and they fear it will be.

Clash Over Principles.

The politicians in Capitol Hill say that the coming fight in the Republican ranks will not be a contest of personality between Roosevelt and Taft, but a clash of policies versus doctrine.

Colonel Roosevelt has so framed up his game that outwardly the question whether he is to be elected President or not is secondary to the question of whether the policies he enunciates shall be the principles of the Republican party.

Of course, he has no personal ambition in this at all; far be it from him to cherish selfish ambitions. But naturally, if the national convention should accept Roosevelt's policies, Taft could not stand on such a platform, and in that event, much against his will, but for the public weal, Roosevelt would accept the nomination.

So the politicians already are realizing that the crisis will develop at Chicago before the committee on resolutions and on appeal to the convention when the party platform is made.

If they should build a Roosevelt platform on which Taft could not stand, and he should decline renomination, there would be nothing to do but nominate Roosevelt, and the Colonel would have his wish of being "drafted" for service gratified.

Taft Urged to Go Out and Fight.

Therefore the old line Republicans

In House and Senate, who include some of the great men of the party in the nation, are beseeching the President to go out and fight the new doctrine. They say he need not attack his old friend; he need not mention his name, but should confine himself to riddling the Roosevelt policies.

But they want the President to do it now and to do it vigorously. They urge him not to flinch, not to use a soft pedal, not to mince words, but to call a spade a spade and a populist a populist.

They ask him to let the country know the significance of the present factional movement in the party and to be prepared to send delegates to the convention who understand the seriousness of it all and who will be prepared to handle wisely the great question of party platform, which will decide the question of selection of the nominee.

Jubilant of Democrats.

The Democrats are in a great state of jubilation over the advent of Roosevelt into the fight. They welcome him with hospitable hands to what they believe will be a bloody grave.

As their convention follows the Republican convention, they will shape their course at Baltimore largely by what is done at Chicago. The conservative Democrats, in the event of Roosevelt stampeding the convention and setting up a radical platform, will urge their party colleagues to nominate a man of conservative mold and a platform to appeal to the wisdom of the people. They will advocate inviting business and property to rally to a safe and sane standard, and they will use the third-term objection for all that it is worth.

And nine out of ten Democrats in the House will tell you that they believe they can beat Roosevelt at the polls.

Patterson, N. J., February 23.—Thirty-five hundred weavers employed in the silk mills here failed to go to work today and announced that they would strike Monday at mills refusing to adopt a wage schedule which already has been adopted by some of the largest operators.

CHAMBER PASSES ANNEXATION BILL

Vote Is Signal for Great Celebration on Part of the Populace.

Rome, February 23.—The Chamber of Deputies tonight passed the bill for the annexation of Tripoli by Italy by a vote of 405 to 20, amid enthusiastic cheering in the chamber and the public gallery. Afterward the members who supported annexation, including the Socialists, a few Republicans and one Radical, Prince Gaetano, were applauded. Only one member abstained from voting.

When the result became known enthusiasm prevailed everywhere, and the populace began a series of demonstrations throughout the city and shops were closed. Placards on their doors announced that business had been suspended "for national rejoicing." Clubs, associations and residences were illuminated.

The hundred thousand demonstrators gathered before the Chamber of Deputies, many of them carrying flags, and demanded that Premier Giolitti come forth. The Premier appeared on a balcony, and in a speech thanked the Roman for their confidence. He then asked them to disperse.

The immense throng, still cheering wildly, then proceeded to the palace, where Victor Emmanuel, queen Helena and Crown Prince Victor Emmanuel, on a balcony, were enthusiastically acclaimed.

The Chamber of Deputies today passed a bill for the annexation of Tripoli, which was opposed by the Socialists, the Transcendentalists, while speaking was a succession of the chamber today and of noisy demonstrations against those who opposed the annexation of Tripoli.

When the bill was passed, the chamber was a scene of confusion. The speaker was a succession of the chamber today and of noisy demonstrations against those who opposed the annexation of Tripoli.

RAYMOND WILL MAKE RACE FOR OFFICE

City Treasurer of Petersburg to Seek Re-Election if Made Legal.

DEATH OF WINGFIELD LEWIS

Telephone Lineman Injured by Falling Tree—Other News.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 5 Bollingbrook Street, (Telephone 1435).

Petersburg, Va., February 23.

City Treasurer William E. Rayney stated to-day that if the amendments to the Constitution allowing treasurers and commissioners of the revenue to succeed themselves, which are to be resubmitted to a vote of the people, are adopted, as he believes they will be by a large majority, he will as soon as the result is made known, announce himself a candidate for re-election as city treasurer. There are already two candidates in the field for the office—J. Gerard Stratton and C. L. Barkeale, both members of the Council—who announced their candidacy months ago, on the supposition that Mr. Rayney could not succeed himself.

Sudden Death After Meeting.

Wingfield Lewis, aged 35 years, died suddenly last night of heart trouble. Mr. Lewis had attended the roll call meeting of Washington Council, No. 17, J. O. U. A. M., of which he was a member, where he exercised his duties, followed by a supper and a social hour. In commemoration of the birthday of Washington, after the close of the exercises he started on his return to his home on McKenzie street. While passing along High Street, near Grace Episcopal Church, he was struck and fell to the pavement. Friends who were near ran to his assistance, and took him home. A physician was summoned, but he was found to be past medical aid, and his death occurred within a few minutes. Mr. Lewis was a worthy and much esteemed citizen, and is survived by his wife and three brothers—John and Adolphus Lewis, of Petersburg, and Henry Lewis, of Matamoras. He was a member of West Street Methodist Episcopal Church.

Injured by Falling Tree.

John T. Carter, employed as lineman by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, was brought to the Petersburg Hospital last night suffering with a fractured thigh bone. Mr. Carter and his crew were at work yesterday at Williams, in Nottingham county, doing some necessary repairs. He had just descended from a pole on which he had completed some work, when he was caught under a tree which was blown down at the moment by the high wind. He was taken out from under the tree by the members of his crew and his right leg was found to be broken between the knee and hip. He received proper attention until he could be brought to the hospital last night, when the fracture was reduced.

Returned Home.

The Rev. L. M. Roper, D. D., of Spartanburg, S. C., who has been visiting in the city for a couple of days, returned to his home last evening. On Sunday next the committee of the First Baptist Church will recommend to the congregation that a call be extended to Dr. Roper to the pastorate of the church, and there is no doubt that the call will be unanimously extended, and the belief is that he will accept.

Painfully Burned.

James Walker, a colored clothes cleaner and presser, was painfully burned day before yesterday about the head, face and hands, by the explosion of a gasoline tank, by which the ignited oil was thrown over him.

Decision This Term.

Judge J. P. West, of Waverly, passed through the city this morning to Richmond. This judge, who has been sitting in the hearing of the famous case Avery vs. Tartie, involving the election of pastor, and officers, and the management of the affairs of the church, says he expects to render his decision some time during the present term of the Hustings Court.

Quick Home Wedding.

Last evening at the residence of the bride's mother, on West Washington Street, Miss Georgiana Jones, daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Jones, was married to John P. West, formerly a resident of Durham, N. C., but for several years a resident of Petersburg. Miss Beattie M. Jones attended as maid-of-honor, and Frank O'Kelly, of Durham, N. C., was best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. R. Love, pastor of West End Baptist Church, in the presence of a number of friends.

Licenses Missing.

A number of marriage licenses issued during last year from the clerk's office in this city have not been returned, through oversight on the part of the officiating minister, as the law requires them to do. There is a penalty for failure to return the licenses within a specified time.

Municipal Matters.

There have been pending for some time in the Common Council, without definite action, several important matters, as for instance, an ordinance establishing a Building Code for the city; an ordinance creating the office of Building Inspector and Plumber; an ordinance creating a Board of Public Safety, to consist of the Mayor, the City Engineer and the Chief of the Fire Department, etc. Another matter of great importance soon to be reported by the Finance Committee will be the several resolutions recently introduced looking to changes in the municipal government and the adoption of a commission form. And then there will also be the proposition to issue $200,000 of city bonds for public improvements, to be submitted to a vote of the people for approval or rejection.

PAT CROWE IN CELL AGAIN

Locked Up on Charge of Assaulting Hotel Proprietor.

Chicago, February 23.—Pat Crowe, a notorious gambler, who has been arrested by the Chicago police, is behind the bars again. He was locked up last night on a charge of assaulting the proprietor of a North Side hotel.

About two months ago he was ordered by Municipal Judge Caverly to leave Chicago and never return. He promised to do so.

APPEAL TO TAFT BEHALF OF EPER

John R. Early's Plight Subject of Message From Tacoma, Wash.

Tacoma, Wash., February 23.—At the annual Washington banquet today, and anniversary banquet of the Elks, a resolution was passed that President Taft be asked to immediately take action in the case of John R. Early, the leper of Summit View.

The following message was sent to President Taft: "John R. Early, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, contracted leprosy while serving his flag in the Philippines. The county and State disclaim responsibility for the maintenance of him and his family, and are thrusting him out beyond the pale of humankind. He is in effect a man without a country, bereaved of his family and his home made desolate. Ten thousand Elks of the State of Washington appeal to you to grant him relief to which his services to the nation entitle him."

The request of this Tacoma Elks was received by the President and referred by him to Attorney-General Wickham.
